How Does PEP Talk Work?

PEP Talk is a straightforward 3-step Process:

Step 1 - Awareness

To find a career that suits your personal strengths, you must be aware of your work skills, interests, and preferences. The awareness phase involves taking skills and interest assessments, and prioritizing your work preferences in order to match them with specific occupations.

Step 2 - Exploration

After you have selected a number of occupations to look into, a workforce services professional will guide you through our online exploration tools. By researching specific occupations, you will find out what kind of experience or training is required, how much workers in those occupations earn, and what the work conditions are like. This will help you to decide whether a certain occupation is worth pursuing.

Step 3 - Creating a Plan

Once you have decided on a career path, you will use the PEP Talk materials to lay out a specific plan to achieve your goals. When you are finished, you will know exactly what steps you need to take to pursue a career in your chosen field.
